"Beyond the Gate: A Tale of Portland's Historic Chinatowns"

Currently on display, noon-5pm (Thu-Sun), Portland Chinatown Museum (127 NW Third Ave, Portland). View "Beyond the Gate: A Tale of Portland's Historic Chinatowns," a display of rare and seldom-seen objects such as Chinese opera costumes, theatrical sets, bilingual text, audio-visual media, and interactive visitor stations that tell a sprawling transnational story of contact and trade between China and the west, focusing on Portland's Old Chinatown (1850-1905) and New Chinatown (1905-1950). The exhibit is an expanded permanent version of the display featured at the Oregon Historical Society in 2016. See story by Kelly La Croix, "Beyond the Gate" showcases Portland Chinatown's past and present" (AR, May 6, 2019), at <www.asianreporter.com>. For info, call (503) 224-0008 or visit <www.portlandchinatown.org>.

Currently on display (Tue-Sun), 10am-5pm, Wing Luke Museum of the Asian Pacific American Experience (719 S King St, Seattle). Learn about Bruce Lee at "Do You Know Bruce?" Part four of the display — "A Dragon Lives Here" — explores his Seattle roots and the fact that Seattle, now known as a city for innovation, technology, and entrepreneurs, also played a key role in shaping Bruce Lee and his groundbreaking approach. For info, call (206) 623-5124 or visit <www.wingluke.org>.

"Worlds Beyond Here"

Through Sep 15 (Tue-Sun), 10am-5pm, Wing Luke Museum of the Asian Pacific American Experience (719 S King St, Seattle). View "Worlds Beyond Here: The Expanding Universe of APA Science Fiction," an exhibit that looks at the connection between Asian Pacific Americans and the infinite possibilities of science fiction. The display features pieces such as an Augmented Reality sculpture garden, a Connection Machine (early supercomputer) from the Living Computers Museum, a local 14-year-old cosplayer who creates robots out of cardboard, a mix of literary and pop culture works, and more. For info, call (206) 623-5124 or visit <www.wingluke.org>.

"Excluded, Inside the Lines"

Through Feb 23 (Tue-Sun), 10am-5pm, Wing Luke Museum of the Asian Pacific American Experience (719 S King St, Seattle). View "Excluded, Inside the Lines," an exhibit that chronicles how communities of color in Seattle collaborated to survive when they were unwanted, excluded, and even threatened. The display uncovers the layered legacy of housing discrimination and redlining in Seattle. From a city ordinance that banned Native Americans from living in Seattle to laws that prohibited the sale of land to Asian immigrants to discriminatory housing covenants and deed restrictions that would specify "white and Caucasians only" or prohibit "Negroes, Ethiopians, Asiatics, Hindus, Malays," (Filipinos), and sometimes "Jews and Hebrews" from buying or renting, housing discrimination has been pervasive in the city. Despite the passage of the 1968 open housing law, redlining, divestment, predatory lending, and other practices have left a long legacy and continued impacts even today. For info, call (206) 623-5124 or visit <www.wingluke.org>.
