“The Curious World of Seaweed”

Through Oct 1, 11am-4pm (Tue-Sun), Pacific Maritime Heritage Center (333 SE Bay Blvd, Newport, Ore.). View “The Curious World of Seaweed,” an exhibit focusing on the marine flora that oxygenates the water and creates habitats for countless organisms. The display, which is presented by the Lincoln County Historical Society, features color “portraits” of seaweed and merges history, art, and science through stories that highlight Indigenous peoples’ and women’s connections to seaweed. It also examines the vital role of seaweed at the base of the food chain. For info, or to purchase tickets, call (541) 265-7509 or visit <www.oregoncoasthistory.org>.

“Bue Kee: An Artist’s Life and Legacy”

Through Oct 8, 11am-3pm (Fri-Sun), Portland Chinatown Museum (127 NW Third Ave, Portland). View “Bue Kee: An Artist’s Life and Legacy,” an exhibit that tells the unknown story of a Portland-born Chinese-American artist whose work — watercolors, paintings, lithographs, drawings, and ceramics — captures an intimate view of Portland Chinatown and the beauty of the Pacific Northwest. Bue Kee (1893-1985) was a painter, sculptor, and ceramicist born in Portland Chinatown who later moved with his family to Clackamas County to help manage a hops farm. Hard of hearing, he could read and write but did not finish grade school. In 1927, he and his family returned to Portland and Kee attended the Museum Art School. After receiving the school’s Carey Prize, he went on to work as an artist. For info, or to purchase tickets, call (503) 224-0008 or visit <www.portlandchinatownmuseum.org>.

Cambodian Rock Band

Sep 29-Nov 5, ACT Theatre, The Falls Theatre (700 Union St, Seattle). Watch Cambodian Rock Band, a musical journey 30 years in the making. The epic play/rock concert thrusts viewers into the life of a young woman trying to piece together her family history 30 years after her father fled Cambodia. Featuring actor/musicians who perform a mix of contemporary Dengue Fever hits and classic Cambodian oldies live, playwright Lauren Yee brings to life the Cambodian rock scene of the '60s and '70s, a movement cut short by the Khmer Rouge's brutal attempt to erase the music (and musicians) once and for all. The story tells about survivors, the resilient bond of family, and the enduring power of music. For info, showtimes, or to buy tickets, call (206) 292-7676 or visit <www.acttheatre.org>.

Finding Her Beat

Sep 30, 2pm, Hollywood Theatre (4122 NE Sandy Blvd, Portland). Attend a screening of Finding Her Beat, a documentary released in 2022 about the best female taiko drummers from North America and Japan. The film highlights Tiffany Tamaribuchi, a world-famous taiko player who recently moved to Portland to be the artistic director at Portland Taiko. The screening includes a live taiko performance and is also a benefit for Portland Taiko, with proceeds from ticket sales supporting the group's artistic and educational programming. For info, call (503) 28TAIKO (288-2456), e-mail <info@portlandtaiko.org>, or visit <www.portlandtaiko.org>. To purchase tickets, visit <www.hollywoodtheatre.org/events/finding-her-beat>.

O-tsukimi

Sep 30, 6:30-9pm, Portland Japanese Garden (611 SW Kingston Ave, Portland). Take part in the custom of o-tsukimi, or moonviewing, one of the oldest and most elegant traditions in Japanese culture. Participants stroll through the lantern-lit garden, observe an evening tea ceremony, enjoy authentic Japanese music, and more. For info, or to register (required), call (503) 223-1321 or visit <www.japanesegarden.com>.
